FRENCH ADVANCE 31 MILES IN GERMANY

Today's advance of the French army in Germany, as shown by the black line in the map, places the invaders within 250 miles of Berlin at Lunen in the north and 250 miles at Hordet in the south. The wedge, it may be noted, is pointed directly toward Berlin, which lies northeast of Lunen. Hordet is thirty-seven miles northeast of Dusseldorf, whence the occupation operations started. Hordet actually marks the farthest east penetration directly from the Rhine. The map shows how France has now tied up all outlets to Germany proper from the entire Ruhr basin.

SWIGS TO SENTENCE COST BANK SLAYER $550,000 TO CHAIR

Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen has turned down a claim for $150,000 by Simon Swigg against the closed Hanover Trust Company and two more claims, totalling $100,000, made by his son, Judge Louis Swigg. This was revealed today in Allen's report to the Legislature.

The claim made by Simon Swigg, former directing genius of the closed, Trenton Trust Company, was for money alleged to have been loaned by him to the Hanover Trust Company. The claim of Judge Louis Swigg involved $75,000 "for alleged professional services," and $25,000 for legal services and publicity.

Simon Swigg

Paul Dascalakis, better known as Paul Pappas, who was convicted of the murder on December 26, 1919, of Mrs. Alice Arenault in a lodging house, today by her on Columbus avenue, was sentenced to the electric chair.

Sentence was pronounced by Judge Keating in Superior Court. Dascalakis was sentenced to die in the electric chair on the week beginning March 18.

Paul Pappas

Just before Judge Keating pronounced sentence Dascalakis made a statement. It followed: "I no be any bum. I no be any bad man. You take my life for nothing. I lose my life for nothing. I did not kill that woman. He took his sentence calmly."

Pappas is the first person to be sentenced to the chair from Suffolk County in eleven years, the last one being Clarence V. T. Richardson, in 1912, who paid for the murder of Ailsa Linnell with his life.

$600,000 MORE GOLD BARS GOING TO INDIA
New York, Jan. 16.—Withdrawal of gold bars for shipment to British India continued today. The Federal Reserve Bank announced withdrawal of $600,000, in addition to $200,000 withdrawn yesterday. Competition of American financial interests in the London gold auction is said to have prevented India from obtaining sufficient gold for her mint requirements, and necessitated her coming into the American market for the precious metal.

HOUSE PASSES KLAN ORDER

GERMANS MASSING AGAINST FRENCH

Dortmund, Jan. 16 (By the Associated Press).—French General Headquarters has information that 25,000 men of the German Reichswehr are concentrated south of Munster, less than twenty-five miles north of Lunen to the north of Dortmund. The French have advanced to both Dortmund and Lunen, and the outposts of the French and German forces at some points are only from eight to ten miles apart.

The French, by advancing to Dortmund and Lunen, passed out of the neutral zone fixed by the Versailles treaty on the right side of the Rhine, into which Germany is forbidden to send regular troops, into the territory where the Reichswehr holds sway. The French are continuing to send up reserves, which are taking up positions behind the River Lippe.

The occupation of the Ruhr basin is now complete, and the French declare that not a single pound of coal can get out of the Ruhr into the unoccupied territory without their checking it up for the coal tax.

Essen, Jan. 16.—German coal magnates, acting through the directors of the Ruhr mines, today defied the French military authorities, and flatly refused to deliver coal and coke to the allies as demanded by General Degoutte, the French commander-in-chief.

Paris, Jan. 16.—An official communique today said an advance line had been established covering the western borders of Dortmund and Hordet, south-east of Dortmund.

(The advance to Hordet marks the farthest eastward penetration. Hordet is thirty-seven miles northeast of Dusseldorf, whence the movement started. The French line also extends to Witten, south of Dortmund.)

Essen, Jan. 16 (By the Associated Press).—Whatever the outcome of the conference today at Dusseldorf between the German industrial magnates and the French Economic Mission, the Ruhr Valley appeared to be in line for an uncompromising military occupation.

"We've tried soft methods, and the Germans have refused to co-operate," the correspondent was told at the French military headquarters. "If they don't come to terms now they will get a taste of what they gave Belgium and Northern France. We will give them something to whine for."

Today's meeting in which the German industrial leaders had been invited under the threat that if they failed to appear they would be arrested, was presided over by General Degoutte.

General Degoutte bluntly informed the coal barons that, unless they turned over coal to France, it would be forcibly seized and such of the mine owners as could be found.

FIGHTING RAGES IN DUBLIN

Dublin, Jan. 16 (By Associated Press).—Dublin today was recovering from the effects of the most intense fighting that has occurred within the city since the siege of the Four Courts. Irregular forces launched a sudden attack on several strategic points, and although driven off by Free State troops, continued intermittent firing.

The afternoon with which the fighting broke out threw the city into a state of excitement bordering on a state of anarchy. A number of persons died.

would be tried by court martial and sentenced to prison.

The Germans said they would obey the German Mine Commission at Berlin, which had ordered them to turn over any coal to the French and Belgians, no matter what penalties might be inflicted. The French had threatened court martial and imprisonment as the penalty for German refusal.

Vote of Default Permits New Drive Against Germans

Paris, Jan. 16 (By Associated Press).—The reparations commission today decided that Germany had fully defaulted in deliveries in kind for 1922. France, Belgium and Italy so voted. Konrad Cook, representative of Great Britain in place of Sir John Bradburn, who was reported as indisposed, abstained from voting.

The default, it was explained by Louis Barthou, president of the commission, resulted from the refusal of the German government to make deliveries in kind while the French were in the Ruhr.

The French high commissioners were anxious to obtain the vote of the reparations commission declaring the default, as an authorization for the French policy of requisitions which it is believed will be enforced immediately.

French Claim Germans Fired First at Bochum

Mayence, Jan. 16 (By the Associated Press).—The clash between French troops and German civilians at Bochum last evening was due to German demonstrators firing on French troops, the French replying to the fire, the semi-official Havas Agency states.

Marks of bullets were found on the walls of the railway station, showing that the French had been fired upon, it is declared.

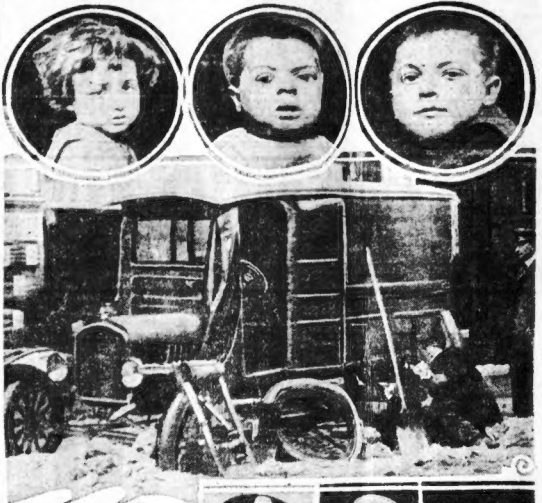

A Berlin dispatch last night announced a clash between German demonstrators and French troops at the Bochum railway station. The French fired, the message said, killed one person and wounding several others. The incident was a sequel to political demonstrations on a large scale by the Bochum population after the seizure of the French.

Other advice gave the casualties in the Bochum incident as one killed, a boy; one man seriously wounded, and a woman gravely fatally hurt.

'No Peace, Saith the Lord'
Lithuanians Fight Allies,
English Bomb Christians,
Turks Hang Christians

By Arthur Brisbane

THE FRENCH are advancing deeper into Germany. The German Coal Commission has forbidden coal owners in the Ruhr to supply coal or coke to France or Belgium, even if paid for it. Hence the French advance.

Reckless citizens in Germany are distributing pamphlets advocating war with France. But you can't fight with pamphlets in modern war.

ALTHOUGH THERE IS NOT peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.

Lithuanians are fighting in the streets of Minsk. They demand that Allies withdraw their troops. Little countries suddenly put on their feet become wonderfully independent.

British flying men are bombing villages in the neighborhood of Minsk—that's where the oil is. Four of the flying men have been brought down—they won't have a pleasant time when the villagers get them.

LOYD GEORGE'S brief statement that the French invasion will produce no cash, but that it will produce a CRASH, seems to fit the situation.

OUR MOHAMMEDAN friends evidently think that the crescent is coming back and the cross is receding. They have hanged five Christians in Smyrna.

THE QUESTION of importance is, what will Russia do? The first growl from that bear to the north corner is a note addressed to the world denouncing French seizure of the Ruhr. What will be the next step? How will the Russian bear and his huge army be working with the German eagle, the two together starting westward toward the Atlantic? There is something in the Russian growl. Revolution may be a chance to gather in Germany.

Our gentlemen in Washington that want to "hold conversations" about "friendly advice" might as well whisper in a cyclone.

MEANWHILE THE FRENCH go ahead with their inexorable "logic" to carry out plans. Seizing more German territory is following up Marshal Foch's word, "When you take a house you enter the ground floor first. Then whatever else you need."

They are obliged to send food into Germany from France for the workers and also money for wages. For one country to exploit another where the people eat and write and rebel is not easy.

NEW YORK TALKS to England by telephone "without wires." Forty years ago men would have said: "Such an invention would mean an end of war. Men able to talk to each other and discuss matters across the ocean would cease fighting." Unfortunately, inventions improve, but men do not. Wireless telegraph, flying machine, submarine, used to make war more efficient and horrible. To improve civilization, improve the minds of men's skulls, not the outside machinery.

THREE MEN in a Jersey City saloon took each one drink of "modern whiskey." They crumpled up and slid to the floor. One of them, a young Jacob Kane, who says Kane, says he is going to be careful about all overtures from now on. Others will be wise to take the same resolution.

THE ENGLISH are pushing possible the Lloyd dam in India, named for the Governor of Bombay. It is one mile long, 150 feet high, 125 feet thick at the base. This dam, greatest of its kind in the world, will protect 300,000 acres from flood, and supply water to irrigate 600,000 acres and cost millions of pounds.

It will prevent for all time the dreadful famines in one part of India.

That's an intelligent report to Omand's statement that the British are only a curse. The wise British know how to colonize.

READY TO BARE SEEN HIM BUT IDENTITY OF KU KLUX SLAYERS TWICE SINCE, SHE SAYS

International News Service. Courtesies, Batrop, La., Jan. 16.—The first attempt to publicly identify members of the "hooded mob" murder band which recently executed Watt Daniel and Thomas P. Richards in Morehouse Parish last August, probably will be made within the next few hours through the testimony of witnesses at the open hearing, International News Service learned today.

The state of Louisiana, in its efforts to punish perpetrators of the murders, and to strip the mask of secrecy from terrorist methods used by members of the Ku Klux Klan to impose their will upon the community has almost completed its preliminary case.

TO IDENTIFY RIDDERS. The next step will be to identify members of the mob, which climaxed a long series of outrages by shooting two Negroes, Watt Daniel and Thomas P. Richards, in Morehouse Parish last August.

BIG PRICE TO DROP CONTEST

Fortune, Twice as Much as Supposed, Revealed in New Suit

Four million dollars and more.

That was the jump sum Victor Albert Searles received for calling off his contest of the $500,000 will of his uncle, Edward F. Searles, the Methuen realtor.

This fortune, whose amount was revealed through a suit filed against the estate at New York, is about twice the figure Searles supposed.

The amount, brought in the Supreme Court of New York, has been fixed by Justice Judge Henry C. Curtis of Providence, who was associate counsel for Victor Albert Searles.

It came today, when it was in New York $24,000 for the amount of the will, but the suit was not decided when the will was admitted to probate. The suit of the $100,000 estate went to Arthur F. Walker, Boston secretary to the other Searles.

Victor Albert Searles has just returned to the United States after several months' absence abroad. He has received a costly villa at Palm Beach since his return and may be preparing to enter active life in the social life of that famous winter resort.

FEAR DR. GRANT BROKE HIS VOW IN SERMON

By EARL L. SHAEUB,

Universal News Service.

New York, Jan. 16.—Pears that the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant, an Episcopal rector of high standing, broke his pastoral vow when he questioned the divinity of Christ from his pulpit were expressed by clergymen here today.

The possibility that he may be brought to face charges of heresy for his utterances was the opinion of some who discussed the sermon which started his fashionable parish.

Though the doctor's assertions made up the topic of conversation in ecclesiastical circles, few were found who would talk of the matter publicly.

PASTOR UNDER STRAIN.

Bishop Manning, whose name was mentioned in the sermon, refused to say anything about the case.

Some expressed the opinion that the sermon was delivered to drive the rector.

Others took the view that Dr. Grant's outbreak was the result of restlessness under which he is laboring because the church authorities forbade his marriage to Mrs. Philip Lodge, a wealthy divorcee.

It has not been many months since he publicly assailed the church law that forbids the marriage of persons who have been divorced on other grounds than unfaithfulness.

Among the minister's statements in his sermon was a one that the idea of church consecration was an inheritance from "witchcraft, magic and talismans."

MAY FACE CHARGES.

It was pointed out that his denial that Jesus is consubstantial with God and that sacraments are without any elemental or fundamental efficacy, might be considered heretical statements from a minister.

A charge of heresy may be made by any presbyter. It would be made to Bishop Manning and in such a case, the bishop would either have to deny the charges or appoint a trial board to hear them.

RESCUES CUSTOMS MAN FROM DEATH

Walter Carter, eighty years old, of No. 8 Anston street, was a customs inspector, was saved from drowning by John F. McNeil, a dockman of East Boston, who jumped into the water when Carter slipped from a gangway.

McNeil supported the dead man until a boat was launched and sailors pulled them both aboard.

TALKS ON "INDIA" AT NORFOLK HOUSE

Edward H. Chandler of the Twentieth Century Club was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Norfolk House, Centre Row, today. "India" was the subject of his address.

SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA YEARS In Rash, Itched and Burned. Cuticura Heals.

"I suffered from eczema for years. Every part of my body was affected excepting my face and below my elbows. It broke out in a rash and itched and burned so that I was always scratching. The scratching caused eruptions, which later would cure. My clothing aggravated the breaking out, and I lost sleep. I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and got relief. I purchased more, and after using three cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Meyer Stroupsky, 558 E. 1st St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Frederick's first appearance in the spoken drama for several seasons and in "The Guilty One" A. H. Woods, her manager, is said to have provided his popular star with a vehicle of extraordinary quality. As Miss Frederick is a Boston girl the engagement here takes on more than average local interest. "The Guilty One" will be reviewed in tomorrow's American.

SOMERVILLE HIGH CLASS PLANS SOCIAL
The Class of 1923, Somerville Evening High School, will hold a dance and social in the High School Auditorium on Thursday evening. The invited guests include Headmaster Everett W. Tuttle, the members of the faculty, and the parents of the class officers. The committee in charge includes: Andrew F. Pike, class president; Charles McCarthy, former athlete, at Boston College; Margarette E. Moore, vice president; and Bertram M. Landon, secretary.

ORDERS SHERIFF TO CLEAN UP BANGOR
Bangor, Me., Jan. 15.—Bangor must dry up. Governor Baxter has given orders to Sheriff O. B. Pennington to stop the bootleggers and rumrunners, whose activities have been so great that prices for liquor are reported as being lower in that city than any place else in Maine. Better grades of "imported stuff" are retailing there at $6 and $7 a bottle. The Governor and sheriff had a conference the past week.

WELL BALANCED BILL FOR KEITH'S PATRONS
Trixie Freeman heads an attractive bill at R. F. Keith's Theatre last week. The inimitable Trixie is giving an entertaining travesty entitled "My Little Bag of Tricks." Trixie and her trix made a decided hit with an audience that wasn't afraid to laugh.

Vaughan Comfort, an American tenor with a real voice, knows how to use it. Vanderbilt gains much by using him. Junior Jones at the piano was an excellent accompanist. Madeline Ten Eyck and Max Wally, character dancers, gave some of the cleverest dancing seen in the theatre for some time. Miss Ten Eyck's costume was unusual. Murray and Oakland, a pair of clever singers and dancers, substituted for Gordon Dooley and Martha Morton. Lewis and Dody, "China Blue" players. Dixie Hamilton, Rich Haven, Glenn Review and usual picture complete a good bill.

GREAT TRIUMPH FOR MARY PICKFORD
There is no doubt as to the wisdom and judgment of Mary Pickford in selecting "Toss of the Coin" for the making of a still greater film. The new version of his remarkably story virtually took the audience by storm yesterday at the Selwyn Theatre. Miss Pickford has written an important chapter into screen history in the manner in which she has produced this picture for a second time in her brilliant career, and it is true she assayed this revival with the idea of creating a classic which would live a posterity that is every indication she has insured herself adequate success in the ambition. Miss Pickford, in the heroine "Toss," is an imported resident of a lovely father-in-law's village and other cabin in the last word in crude humble dwellings. A late comedy, "Salt Air," featuring Noble Dano and a News Pictorial were also shown.

BURLESQUE AT ITS BEST AT WALDRON'S
Burlesque at its best is seen at Waldron's Casino this week, where the "Knick Knacks" company entertains lavishly with "A Silk Stocking Review of Up and Down Broadway." Two feature motion pictures and top-notch vaudeville complete the three-in-one continuous program. Frank N. Sile, leading comedian of "Knick Knacks," shows what rollicking fun may be made with a tramp role, and Kitty Warren, who is fast with silk, is a delightful and pliant southerner. She scores especially in her mad impersonations. The chorus of "Knick Knacks" is one of the prettiest and liveliest collection of girls seen in Boston in years. The show is splendidly staged and the costumes are elaborate and rich. Among the particularly attractive acts are "The Fountain of Youth," brilliant in color effects and electrical display, and the Royal Grease of the Colorado River, with Miss Warren leading Indian maid in a "Hawaian" number.

GORGEOUS COSTUMES IN "PASSING SHOW"
"The Passing Show of the Year," headed by Eugene and Willie Howard and two scores of lively Winter Garden entertainers, moved into the Shubert Theatre last evening for a three weeks' run. This is one of the biggest and brightest of the famous Winter Garden productions and was sent to Boston with the same company and production that kept New Yorkers thrilled for a season. Gorgeously costumed, with heavy scenic embellishment, this is one of the most pretentious of the Shubert offerings. "The Passing Show" will be reviewed in Thursday's American.

DEMANDS LEGISLATIVE PROBE OF NEW HAVEN

Revere and East Boston Pay $222 For Coal

PROTEST GOUGING PEDLARS

Hucksters Buy it for $15 and Sell in Small Lots at High Prices

Residents of East Boston and Revere are continuing to pay $20 to $22 a ton for anthracite coal from pedlars, although unable to obtain it from the large dealers. According to the pedlars, they pay the large dealers $15 a ton, thereby, making a profit of from $5 to $7 a ton.

One of the residents of Revere who paid $20 for coal during the last few days was Samuel Herman of No. 18 Summer street. The seller told him that he had paid $15 a ton to a large dealer in Revere.

FORCED TO BUY.

"The only reason I paid this excessive price for the coal," said Herman, "was because my boy was sick in bed from tonsillitis and I needed the coal to keep his bedroom warm. If it had not been for that I would not have paid the extra price. It was a case, however, of having to have the coal and so I paid what I was forced to."

"I have been a regular customer of the Metropolitan Coal Company since I was married nineteen years ago and although I put in an order for coal on the ninth of last October I have not yet been able to get any. I always paid for my coal before it was delivered. I have visited the main office of the company in Boston in an effort to get some relief, but without success. It is high time the fuel administration of this State did something to relieve the coal situation."

TELEPHONE DEAD.

"Persons who bought coal from the East Boston Coal Company last week say they were forced to pay $22 a ton for it."

Officials of the Boston Commonwealth Gas Company say that despite the reports of difficulty in obtaining coal there has been no increase in the sale of gas appliances for heating.

"On the contrary," said one of the officials, "a comparison of the figures for the first twelve days of this month with those of the same period last January show that we sold fewer appliances for heating. During the first twelve days of January last year we sold twenty-one gas steam radiators. This year we sold nine. Last year during the period in question we sold 197 'radiant fires,' while this year we sold only 167. Last year we sold forty-six room heaters, this year eight."

Department store officials say there has been no noticeable increase in the sales of all burning heating apparatus.

Both the gas company and the department store prepared for big increases in sales of burning apparatus because of the coal situation, but agree that their expectations did not materialize.

NILAND CALLS COAL MEETING SUNDAY

In an effort to determine the real cause for the coal shortage in New England, former Representative Thomas A. Niland of East Boston has called a meeting for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, to be held in Fenwick Hall.

He has invited Congressmen and other prominent public officials to attend and give their views on the problem.

$2,000 REWARD ACCUSE ASYLUM FOR HAVERHILL BOMB PLOTTERS

Haverhill, Jan. 16.—William A. King, owner of Kelpo Brothers shoe factory in the Ward Hill section, has today offered a reward of $2,000 for the arrest and conviction of the person who placed a suitcase containing seventy-eight half pound sticks of dynamite near his factory, January 4.

The police are looking for a suspect, five feet six inches tall and weighing about 135 pounds, who answered the description of a man who purchased a suitcase and an alarm clock at two local stores a day before the discovery.

The suitcase was identical with the one sold. It is believed to have been placed by someone during the period when labor trouble was on at the factory, in which the shoe company was granted an injunction against the shoe workers' protest strike.

"The wires of the internal machine were disconnected through a man's cat breaching against it, preventing the internal machine from exploding the dynamite."

KELLY AIMS BILL AT REFORMERS

Representative Coleman E. Kelly of Dorchester today asked the Legislature to define the word "hypocrite" and thereby put the Good Government Association and the Boston Finance Commission out of business.

Kelly had a bill before the Joint Judiciary Committee which provides that any person who, for hire, advocates any alleged reform which actually "restrains the free exercise of personal liberty," shall be held guilty of hypocrisy and sent to prison for a year.

2 COUGHT FOR BACK ON WOMAN

Plucky Somerville Storekeeper Tells How She Beat Off Robbers

Police today expect to arrest two youths named by Mrs. Victoria Savilonis, who was slashed on hands and wrists with a jack knife when she foiled an attempt to rob her little variety store at No. 44 South street, Somerville.

The youths live in the packing house district and are well known to Mrs. Savilonis. They work within a stone's throw of her store and are known to the neighborhood as "Nick" and "Ringo."

TREMLED WITH PAIN.

Bleeding from the wounds she quickly gave chase to the men, aided by a passerby, for more than half a mile in the direction of Cambridge. She could not find a policeman and they escaped, but left behind the $25 they had snatched from her apron pocket and a roast of beef and boxes of candy they had tried to steal.

WOMAN SCREAMS.

"I was alone, washing some clothes in my kitchen, when the store bell tinkled, telling me some one had entered," Mrs. Savilonis explained. "I came into the store, and I saw one of the boys behind the counter, taking candy from the showcase, while the other was packing up some beef."

"I screamed, and the one behind the counter came round in front, one arm loaded with boxes. I grabbed my wrist and twisted them till I fell to my knees, while the other pulled the money out of my apron pocket. But they had so many things in their hands I was free, snatched back my money, and began to scream and beat them with my fists. Then one drew his knife and cut at me three or four times."

RAN FLYING STORE.

"I must have been wild for they ducked their heads, throwing up their hands to protect their faces, and ran from the store, dropping everything. I let the staff lie right and ran after them, and a man came along and helped me. When the two men separated, I chased one and the man followed the other."

"I've seen them fellows in the store and on the corner lots of times, and my little son told me their names when I described them. They didn't get away in the end, but my hands are terrible and I won't be able to tend the store for a long time."

He was forced to keep to his apartment in the Hotel Marie Antoinette. It was feared that pneumonia would develop, but Mr. Belasco has improved beyond the danger point.

PLED FOR "SHUEK'S" KISSES

Thousands of Women Mob Valentino in Tour of Boston

Rodolph Valentino has come and gone, leaving in his wake thousands of palpitating feminine hearts, scores of souvenir cigarettes, uncounted miles of beginning smiles and a vast wave of masculine amazement.

Rodolph himself was thoroughly exhausted by the tremendous reception given him in Boston.

"Women, women everywhere and not a place to hide," the throng of the "Shuek" as he was making his peripatetic way through the sea of women on Tremont street. Four natty policemen broke through the mob and five life-sized men followed him, making a way of procession from the frantic admirers.

FUR COLLAR SOUVENIRS.

The handsome carol collar of Rodolph's overcoat presented the many admirers of an undecipherable story by the time he reached the South Station to take the New York train. Excited women all along the way had pulled out strips of the black fur for a souvenir. By the time they reached home many of them firmly believed it was a lock of Rodolph's own hair.

When the movie did paid his respects to Governor Cox and to Mayor Curran they threatened to be a riot in the narrow streets around the State House and City Hall.

COX ENTERTAINS STARS.

Governor Cox showed the guest all the points of interest about the executive chamber and chatted with Rodolph pleasantly. Among three present at the reception in the State House were Representative Susan W. Fitzgerald of Boston.

Cigarette made valuable by the touch of the screen idol are cherished by scores of 15th street. Rodolph appeared to get a great deal of pleasure out of passing out these cigarettes for which Boston beauties begged ardently, whenever there was a chance of speaking to him. Several automobiles full of expectantly girls followed the "Shuek" from the State House to the Art Museum in the afternoon.

When he alighted from his car they surrounded him, begging for cigarettes and kisses. The kisses were not forthcoming, however.

GIRL BEGS FAIR RIVALS TO ENTER GOLDEN SKATES DERBY

Don't Let Boys Win, Plea of Miss Smith

By CHARLES E. PARKER.

"That's the matter with all the girls skaters in this derby, too," Miss Smith, 15, of No. 1213 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington, who today filed her entry blank for the GOLD SKATES RACES.

"I read the GOLD SKATES column in the Boston American every night, but as yet I haven't found a single girl entrant from Arlington, and only a very few boys. And yet Arlington is always boasting about its skaters. I've got enough courage to enter the races, although there has been little opportunity to practice thus far this winter. I do hope all Arlington girls follow my example. If they don't whom will I race?"

Miss Smith states a plea that is more or less common to the girls skaters who have entered the GOLD SKATES RACES. They are unable to understand why such a limited number of young women enter the GOLD SKATES RACES.

"I am hoping to land the final prize for boys under fourteen, and capture the precious prize. My closest rival, Harold Wright, also is confident and we expect to have some real fun battling up to the final."

"I am one of the fastest boys on skates at Franklin field, and am sure that I will be among the ones landed up for the finals when the time comes."

Today's entries were:

ALLAN BRISTON.

TUFTS GOES IN FOR WINTER SPORTS

The winter sport program at Tufts College is the most prominent yet attempted. More than three hundred men are engaged in four activities, only one of which is a major sport.

Varsity indoor track was discontinued at Tufts owing to a lack of suitable material, but basketball, hockey and wrestling are offered to the students by the athletic department and many have taken up the work.

Basketball is on winter sport in which Tufts is represented by a varsity team and Coach O'Donnell has twenty-five players on his first and second squads. The freshmen squad under the majority of Coach Down, numbers fifteen.

There are twelve fraternity squads which make up the Brown and the Blue League which are battling for an intramural championship cup. The physical education department likewise has two leagues of basketball. Altogether, a hundred or so every student is playing basketball at Glendon Gym.

Hockey is the fourth activity which has unprecedented support of the students. The attendance at hockey and wrestling is an even hundred men, making a total of three hundred and thirty students who are taking part in the winter sports.

Tufts has no intention of dropping out of town hockey competition. The varsity team is well equipped with outside institutions, but the athletic department has long felt the need of some system that would take care of the student body in winter sports.

MEDFORD LOOKS FOR WIN OVER B. C. ON TRACK

By FRED C. LANE.

What is expected to play an important part in naming the winner of the Greater Boston Intercollegiate meet next month is the Medford-Boston College high dual meet at the Medford-Boston College gymnasium on Friday.

This affair will bring together two of the leading high school track teams in Massachusetts. With the exception of Newton, which has an exceptional track squad this year, these are the two best schools of the twenty or more entered for the big meet.

Medford suffered a defeat from Huntington last week, but close followers of the track are of the opinion that Coach O'Donnell's charges went out of their way to compete against the private school.

Though on the short end of the score, the Medford athletes displayed good class and talent in the first round of the best public high school teams in the State.

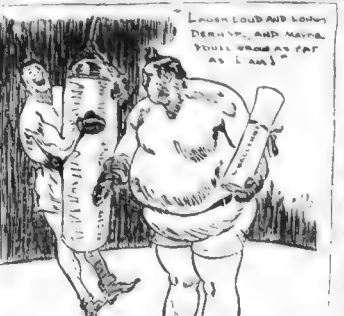

Had Maurice Davidson run for Medford in the 1,000 yard run it is almost certain that Medford would have won over the Black Day school.

This is an event in which the Medford team is weak. Stuart Woodley is hurting the iron 42 feet which beats the best throw of Crocker by feet.

Burton McInerney, formerly of the Junco track team over the 400 yard route. When the team beat the Junco team, it was a regular thing.
